With about 700 workers present in the Cathedral Friday night, action was taken by the Co-Operative Workers of America demanding that the governor call a special session of the General Assembly for the purpose of raising additional relief funds. The "off again, on again" work policy which has been in vogue was scored and stabilization asked.

Jess Dufford, president of the organization, presided over the meeting and introduced several speakers. Carl Leathers, assistant to the RWD Administrator traced the history of the work relief movement from its inception down to the present time and closed by saying that they expected to get work started within a short time again.

The hero of Ellwood City was represented by the manager, Lowell Monroe and the school district by Superintendent V. R. De Long. They did not appear on the platform but sent up a set of figures showing the investment both units had in the RWD projects.

Mayor Charles B. Mayne was expected but did not appear. Administrator L. B. Round was introduced and said the men were justified in protesting the shutdown (Continued On Page Two)

PA NEW OBSERVES

Friday afternoon's wind played a mean trick on a south side woman who resides on a second floor apartment. The woman hung her family washing on a rope on the roof. The wind broke the line and part of the clothes landed on South Mill street. Was the woman perturbed?

Passing by several of the dirt streets in the vicinity of the south side, Young Pa Newc observed residents applying oil to the streets on Friday.

Pa Newc noticed this morning that a new stop sign has been attached to the pole on the corner of Pollock and East Long avenues. Not long ago some person tore the sign down.

Something new in the way of night sports is Bocce, an Italian game played with wooden balls. The Casa Savola society on South Mill street has constructed its own field with electric lights. Practically every night one can see men enjoying the Italian game, as late as 10 o'clock.

Fruit trees are in bloom at the present time. All over the countryside apple and cherry trees are spreading their spring beauty.

A little rain wouldn't be amiss. Especially are highways that are unpaved, becoming exceptionally dusty. Around the stadium last night, autos travelling the ashed streets stirred up great clouds of dust.

You've probably seen straw hats on several men about the downtown, we have!

Second floor rooms on East Washington street were used to a considerable extent this morning by youngsters who were watching the circus parade, Young Pa Newc observed.

Crowd At Taggart Stadium Is Thrilled By Sports Spectacle

Beneath the huge floodlights of Taggart Field and a sky of twinkling stars 1000 junior and senior high school students performed on Friday night in what was the most remarkable, the most spectacular demonstration of sports and drills the city of New Castle has ever seen.

Three thousand spectators were thrilled by the West Point precision and the very smoothness of the entire gigantic undertaking. It was a physical and psychological triumph that will long stand on an enviable pedestal in the sports annals of New Castle. Never before has such a stupendous outdoor festival of this kind ever been presented; a less courageous group of leaders than Ralph H. Gardner, Phil H. Bridenbaugh, Miss Gal McGinn, Dan Carroll, Emmett Gillaspie and Prof. Jos. Replige would not have attempted it.

Setting Robin Is Protected In Bleachers

An ordinary robin occupied about $75 worth of seats in the bleachers at Taggart stadium last night, in an especially reserved section.

Some of the spectators at the game were familiar with the situation, but most of them were not.

Up near the top of the bleachers nearest the Ben Franklin high school, a robin made her nest recently, laid several eggs and settled down to family duties.

Pupils and teachers of the school were interested and fearful that the crowd would spoil the robin's home last night, had a section around the nest roped off, and a sign erected telling of the situation.

During the entire evening no one in the large crowd molested the bird's nest, and after the first show of nervousness, the bird stuck to the nest throughout the entire football game and program of the evening.

Rayburn Stock Market Bill Is Sent To Senate

Measure Passed By House Faces Liberalization In Senate Is Belief

TWO BRANCHES ARE FAR FROM ACCORD

Vote In House For Rayburn Stock Market Regulation Bill Is 280-84

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 5.—The Rayburn stock market regulation bill today faced revision and liberalization in the Senate after receiving the overwhelming endorsement of the House.

With the bill labeled as "must" by President Roosevelt, Senator Fletcher of Florida, chairman of the Senate banking committee, hoped to call it up within a week.

Passed by House
The measure was passed by the House by a vote of 280 to 84 late yesterday after a five-day fight during which every important liberalizing amendment was spurned.

The Senate banking committee, which had already turned thumbs down on the Rayburn bill, which bore the endorsement of the so-called "junior brain-trusters," who aided in its preparation.

Instead, the Senate had before it a bill providing for a stock exchange commission which would have wide discretionary power to prevent manipulation, rigging of the market and other similar practices.

Bills Differ
The Senate rejected a fixed margin on stock purchases from brokers, while the House approved a 45 per cent initial margin and gave the federal reserve board power to (Continued On Page Two)

Block Vote On McLeod Measure

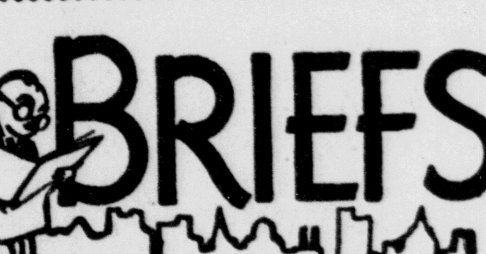

Administration Leaders Succeed In Blocking Vote On Bill To Aid Depositors

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 5.—House administration leaders today had succeeded in again blocking—temporarily at least—a vote on the McLeod bill to "thaw" $1,800,000,000 of "frozen" bank deposits.

The petition to bring the measure to a vote had achieved more than 100 signatures but was still short of the 145 needed to bring the measure to the floor over the objections of leaders.

The new goal of the McLeod forces was completion of the petition in time to force a vote on May 28, or win the approval of administration leaders for earlier consideration.

MELLON DENOUNCES TAX PROBE METHODS

No Chance Given For Refutation

Declares Charges Against Him Due To Fact He Was In Cabinet

GRAND JURY MAY START PROBE MONDAY

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, May 5.—Denouncing the attempt to "railroad" him before a grand jury without first giving him a chance to refute charges of income tax evasion, Andrew W. Mellon, former secretary of the treasury, today called the action of Attorney General Homer S. Cummings "an utter disregard of statutory regulations."

A grand jury which will convene here Monday is expected to carry out Cummings' order for a grand jury investigation of Mellon's income tax affairs in 1931. The former secretary stated the government seeks to collect $1,319,080.90 additional tax and a penalty of $659,540.45 on his income tax for that year.

"Seek To Discredit Him."
Revealing that he had been warned "from a source high in the Democratic party" that a determined effort was being made to discredit him, Mellon demanded "an end to the long campaign of vilification that has been carried on and my name cleared." He asserted he was as "much in the dark as ever as to any grounds which the attorney general can possibly have for such action in my case."

Neither U. S. Attorney H. S. Dumbauld or internal revenue officials would verify reports that the government is ready to proceed with the investigation authorized by the attorney general last March.

Mellon criticized the manner in which the government is proceeding in its case against him.

"By such tactics an attempt is being made to indict me for not paying a tax that has never been assessed or legally determined," Mellon said. "The unfairness, not to speak of the animus, of such a procedure is obvious."

In an appeal which he is making to the United States board of tax appeals, the former treasury secretary said he hopes to "establish not only that there is no additional tax due but that I am entitled to a refund of a part of the taxes already paid."

He concluded his statement with the observation that "had I not been a member of the cabinet of the last three administrations, I would not now be the object of this extraordinary procedure."

of the RWD but urged them to make their protests in a constitutional manner.

Action Taken
Harry Wright spoke of the discrimination against Pennsylvania, and Walter V. Tyler presented a resolution which will be sent to the governor.

"WHEREAS—There exists in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania at this time an economic crisis slightly less in its severity than that of the past winter. Thousands of men and women are still unemployed and still look to their government, both state and federal for relief, and

"WHEREAS—The responsibility of our state government has not been removed because of federal contributions for work and food relief and should continue to augment the federal relief, therefore,

BE IT RESOLVED—By those assembled here tonight, May 4, 1934, in the Cathedral at the call of the Co-Operative Workers of America, an organization representing the 12,000 workers and enforced unemployed groups of Lawrence County, who have banded themselves together into a compact organization in order that they may use their industrial and political influence to help guide our government back to a state of normalcy, together with representatives of a number of the political subdivisions of this county and other representative citizens who join with us in voicing these resolutions.

RESOLVED—That it is high time the authorities of the great commonwealth of Pennsylvania stop insinuating to the world that it is a pauper and that the welfare work can exist only upon a national dole. We are of the opinion that this spectre is highly detrimental to the good name of our state, and in view of the fact that previous requests have been almost totally ignored, we therefore demand that you as Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania exercise the rights of your high office, as we believe the time is here when political bickering must cease, and immediately call another extra session of the Legislature whose sole duty will be to legislate this great bill.

The name of our state and to provide adequate funds to carry on our own state welfare work for a period of at least one year with only a minimum of national help.

"In view of the fact that this will be the fourth extra session you have called we insist that our representatives and senators be paid only their traveling expenses. Failure upon your part to successfully carry out this program will undoubtedly stamp you as unfit to represent this state at our national capital.

"We demand that this 'Off again, on again, gone again' work policy be changed at once and a reliable well planned program be brought forth that will provide adequate cash relief to our enforced unemployed. We do not feel that this present $36.00 per family per month, regardless of its size, is the correct answer to our problem. The vast majority of our families stand ready to give a good days work in return for fair treatment in this unparalleled welfare work which must of necessity continue until such time as our normal industries can or are enforced to enroll us on their established payrolls at a living wage, and to bring to our business establishments that necessary life blood which can only be applied by proper consumer purchasing power."

raise or lower it as needed to prevent speculation or under-deflation. The House also entrusted the federal trade commission with supervision of stock exchanges instead of the separate commission approved by the Senate banking committee.

Dissatisfied with the report of his committee, Senator Fletcher was expected to make a vigorous fight for more drastic regulation than is provided in the Senate bill.

Rayburn Defends
The Rayburn bill was vigorously defended by Chairman Rayburn (D) of Texas of the House interstate commerce committee, which reported it.

He denied that it interfered with legitimate business—either on the exchanges or outside of them—but asserted that it provided means of preventing abuses disclosed in the last few years.

The measure carries sweeping powers for the federal trade commission, powers so great that opponents of the bill charged that it sets up a dictatorship over industry.

eral weeks of training but the sign of invisible activities which have been going on in the city school system for many years, the result of constant tutoring in sports from grade to high schools.

A brief move-by-move account of the carnival follows:

1—Grand Parade released by blast of trumpets at 7:30 p. m. One thousand boys and girls taking part, marching over field to the music furnished by the George Washington and Ben Franklin junior high and New Castle senior high school bands. Girls dressed in colorful blue and white gym suits, boys in white trunks and jerseys. Forming of immense spirals, climaxed by playing of Star Spangled Banner by the band, with the voices of 3000 standing spectators vibrating through the night.

Drills And Sports
2—One hundred Ben Franklin boys in drill and sports interpretation, to music. (They showed class with a capital K.) Wrestling exhibit by three sets of young opponents, quick as fawns and with the strength of centaurs. Tumbling—an expert exhibition of great skill. The young tumblers floated through the air with the greatest of ease, climaxing the display with the forming of a high pyramid. No less interesting were the basketball, baseball and football demonstrations in various parts of the field. It was a three-ring circus deluge.

3—More drills, this time by the George Washington students. Volley ball games, hurdle races, high jumps, pole vaulting. The exercises illustrated in a colorful way the great variety of sports in which the city school students are being trained.

Senior High Girls Drill
4—Senior high school girls in a drill with red and black beribboned dumb-bells—a drill that was the peak of perfection in every detail. The girls wore the regulation blue and white gym suits. They were 154 in number. As a climax to this number—and to the entire sports carnival—this crowd of young women suddenly formed a huge N. C. H. S. while the band played Alma Mater and the spectators broke loose in a thunderous applause.

And thus closed the finest sports festival ever presented here. Character, the goddess of grace and beauty, was the silent toastmistress of the evening, and helped the boys and girls of New Castle to display better form and precision than ever could the youth of athletic old Athens or Troy. It was an Olympic triumph that will remain unequalled for many a day.

SEEKING THE UNKNOWN

WITH practically all of the earth's surface having been explored, science, ever restless in its search for new things and their explanation, is turning with hope to the air and to the depths of the sea.

What conditions exist beyond the reaches of the atmosphere we breathe? What mysteries are to be found at the ocean's bottom and in the dark realms of water which the sun's rays never penetrate?

An effort to answer the first question is seen in the exploration of the stratosphere begun a few years ago and in which interest continues to grow. The second question is not of recent origin. Considerable work has been done in trying to get at some of the secrets locked in Neptune's realm, but progress has not been rapid or the results sensational.

One of what appears to be the most promising ocean expeditions of this kind now is engaged in exploring the depths of that stretch of water between Arabia and India. Already at least one remarkable discovery has been made. While the water teems with life to depths of from 50 to 100 feet, beyond that level no living thing is to be found. It is in fact a dead sea in a sea. Pending a more thorough examination of water from the dead realm, scientists expressed the belief that the peculiar condition might be due to the seepage of petroleum for ages from the land into the sea.

One of the purposes of the expedition is to determine if there is any truth in the theory that a vanished continent lies under the sea in this area. Millions of years ago, according to this theory, when America, Europe and parts of Asia were covered with water, Arabia and India were connected by a continent known as Gondwanaland, which was the home of monstrous, scaly reptiles that have no counterparts in any of the earth's known jungles today. Gondwanaland is believed to have disappeared as a result of volcanic action.

Soundings and explorations so far made by the present expedition are said to have supplied confirmation of this theory, but further work will be necessary to establish its truth definitely. Should this finally be done, the next logical task would be to excavate the ocean's bed, if possible, in an effort to find the remains of some of the prehistoric beings that inhabited the continent when it disappeared.

STANDS ON ITS RIGHTS

The United States will not unprotestingly see its rights in China trampled on by Japan.

This, in substance, is the warning to Tokyo contained in the statement by Secretary Hull intended as a reply to the newly-announced Japanese policy excluding other nations from certain commercial activities in China.

The statement was made after Tokyo had modified slightly the policy as outlined by its "unofficial spokesman."

The reaction in Great Britain, the United States and other powers that have interests in that part of the world was not exactly favorable. Although most of these nations, including America, have pressing domestic problems to solve, it was shown that they would not be inclined to respect the new Japanese policy, which, as outlined in Tokyo, would exclude them from Chinese markets and in other ways work to their own and China's disadvantage. In addition, there was the nine-power treaty to take into consideration.

This pledges the signatory powers to "respect the sovereignty, the independence and the territorial integrity of China."

TAKE A BOW, BOYS

Dr. R. A. Millikan, famous scientist, paid tribute in a speech last month to the men who operate the motor car filling stations of the country. In so doing, he gave voice to a thought that has been maintained privately by many motorists.

Filling station employees, Dr. Millikan declared to a Little Rock, Arkansas, audience, "have improved the manners and the courtesy and the consideration of the American public more than all the colleges in the country."

It was time the chaps who man the gasoline pumps were handed a pat on the back. Generally speaking, their politeness, their helpfulness and their good nature is unvarying and noteworthy.

LABOR LOST

With arbitrary ruthlessness the Advisory Board of the Columbia School of Journalism has scrapped the recommendations of its two major juries and made other selections for Pulitzer awards, the best play and the best novel of the year.

The play jury chose "Mary of Scotland," the Advisory Board substituted "Men in White." And the same body overruled the selection of its committee to name the best novel of the year and decided on Caroline Miller's "Lamb in His Bosom."

To be sure the Advisory Board has the last word. But the question arises, why delegate juries if their findings are to be ignored?

HOLLYWOOD REPULSED

One of the spring's strangest news stories tells of the pretty Chicago young woman who turned down a flattering offer to act in the movies after passing all screen tests.

She is June Grabner, daughter of a baseball club official, who will henceforth be able to lay some claim to fame as the girl who flaunted the old traditions of the movie-sick young women and their desperate desire to act in the films.

It seems to be generally conceded that it's a shame for anybody to work 12 hours a day except Mother.

What's in a name? Well, for many players it is the only difference between auction and contract.

These strikes indicate that capitalism and labor are feeling their oats again.

"YOUR MOTHER'S MAIDEN NAME"

Wonder who started this business, anyway?

Whenever I sign a document of any kind, one of those terrifying things with a thousand words of small type which we are always advised to read before we sign, I find that I must tell the man behind the desk my mother's maiden name.

The last time I did it was when I had to sign something for a title insurance company. . . . I put my name on it without thinking twice and turned away and then the young lady said gently, "And your mother's maiden name?" So I thought of my grandmother's maiden name and figured it out triumphantly that that was my mother's maiden name, too, and wrote it down.

The time before that it was an insurance doctor who wanted to know her maiden name. And I've also given it to credit men, to bankers, to booksellers, to recruiting officers, to all sorts of public officials. . . . They never ask me what's my favorite color or what I think of the Five Year Plan, or do I think there's anything in the theory of evolution, or do I like spinach or hydraulic brakes or how many hours I sleep, or things like that. . . . No, they all want to know my mother's maiden name.

They don't do anything with it after they get it. They leave it on the document and file it away forever, I suppose. It's no good to them. They can't sell it to anybody, can't write to her under that name, can't put her on any "sucker list." . . . But they all have that keen curiosity to know what was mother's name before she married my father. . . . I've been asking around and I've discovered that it's not personal with me, either. Other people tell me that they have all to tell their mothers' maiden names, too. . . . There must be some law about it. If you don't give your mother's maiden name, it doesn't count.

S I suppose I'm not legally married, after all. I was looking at my marriage license the other day and I happened to notice that it had my grandmother's maiden name on it instead of my mother's. I distinctly remember that the man asked me for my mother's name and I intended to give it to him. I was perfectly cool and composed at the time, of course, but somehow or other he didn't get what he wanted. . . . Do you think it's too late to do anything about it?

BE YOURSELF!

You like to meet a person of culture and refinement.

But it's your opinion that such a person misses a whole lot in life because of his sedate and self-contained manner.

When in the society of certain persons, however, you attempt to ape the mannerisms of just such an individual.

Naturally, you make a failure of it—you never had the right background.

Such a character cannot successfully be taken on and off at will.

The effort will not ring true.

You want to gain the effect but still retain the habits of your natural self and the pleasure you gain from them.

You tire of the society of intellectual persons—they bore you.

You become lost in the maze of facts and well founded theories such persons discuss.

You cannot see the benefit to them, or to you, of having so much complicated information at your command.

Better not try making your usual bluff, because you either are, or you are not, an educated and refined person.

A GARDEN FANCY

I walk into my garden and my tulips look at me.

Perhaps the way they looked at Him who lived in Galilee.

And possibly by mating birds the self-same songs were sung.

About His father's little shop when he was very young.

The morning glories climb my fence, their blossoms pink and blue.

Perhaps they're very like the ones the Mother Mary grew.

And now and then when lilacs bloom still perfume on the air.

I fancy that a bush like mine once knew her tender care.

A robin nests beneath my eaves who knows but long ago

She led Him to the window pane that lovely sight to show?

For while the world of men must change and customs rise and wane.

The joys a garden has to give unaltered still remain.

One time, nearly 50 years ago, a new boy came to school and his name was Harry. All the girls, including myself, decided he was ever so much nicer than any of the other boys in school and there was considerable rivalry among them as to which one he would like best.

One girl, older than I, said she was going to write him a letter and persuade him, much against my better judgement, to do the same. I found it very difficult to decide just how to begin it. I didn't want to say "Dear Harry," for that seemed very bold, and he was too much of a stranger for me to say "Friend Harry" so I thought and thought and finally wrote it, "O. Harry." Think of it! But I was only 10.

I don't remember anything else I said, but he never saw it anyway, for my brother found it and it was years before I ever heard the last of "Harry."

Retail Price Rise Threatens
Competition in Discredit
Stimson's Aid No Accident

By LESLIE EICHEL

Central Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, May 5.—The most serious situation in the New Deal is not defiance on the labor codes, but the rise in the retail price of bread, milk and other foods as well as clothing, while wholesale commodity prices fall.

Commodity prices were forced up by government bounty.

Retail prices follow some months behind.

Commodity prices can be kept up only by constantly increasing government bounty or constantly increasing deflation, until a peak is reached. The moment government support ceases, commodity prices sink to a world parity.

Retail prices, on the other hand, usually remain up much longer—until lack of consumption (inability of the buyer to buy) causes them to deflate.

Usually, increased costs which go into higher retail prices are pyramided through a process of increased organization and costs of increased competition, and a profit percentage figured on a higher base price. Thus retail prices do not collapse so readily as wholesale commodity prices, for the process is more involved. When they do collapse, however, they often bring organizations down with them and paralyze certain businesses.

COMPETITION

Competition is in discredit these days.

No longer do men accept the maxim, "Competition is the life of trade."

The new maxim is "Competition is the death of business."

The cost of competition now is reckoned as a cost passed on to the consumer.

Each new tax also is passed on to the consumer.

TO SAVE DAY?

It was not by accident that Henry L. Stimson, Republican, secretary of state under President Hoover, spoke in support of the Rooseveltian bill for giving the president tariff trading powers.

Republicans with money had urged such action as Stimson's.

Big Business Republicans as well as Left Wing Rooseveltians see in this tariff bill the means of saving the day.

Unless enlarged markets are found for American grains, the depression may begin all over again. Markets cannot be found unless a virtual system of barter and trade is instituted—goods for goods.

Even high tariff industrialists, who made millions with "protected" industries, now are for great freedom of international trade.

ECONOMIC NATIONALISM

Economic nationalism is at its peak now. Each country tries not to buy anything from any other country, but desires to sell everything it produces. The result is a plethora of money, very little international trade, a growing militant nationalism, with armament being built up all along the line.

Big business has turned dead against this policy, which it bred first.

On Court House Hill

Considerable interest is manifested in a plaster model of the proposed new court house, which the Thayer company, architects, have placed in a show window of the Winter company store. It was made by John E. Alms, a Pittsburgh sculptor.

The model is made on a scale of one-fourth inch to a foot. It is an exact replica of the court house, as it would appear when finished. It is estimated that it will meet the requirements of the county for the next 50 years, and longer, unless there is greater growth than at present indicated.

Plans take into consideration the requirements of the different offices for clerk room and filing cases. No site has yet been chosen. The architects say that the drawings are 90 per cent completed, but further work awaits the selection of a site, as it would make some difference in the layout were sloping instead of level ground selected.

Attorneys are discussing a proposed change in their office hours. Most of them seem to be in favor of opening their offices an hour earlier and closing an hour earlier in the afternoon. Those who don't have gardens don't know what to do from sunrise until time to go to their offices, while an added hour in the afternoon could very well be employed in playing golf, swimming or some other form of recreation. If adopted the plan may not be put in operation until after the June term of quarter sessions court. There will be no regular sessions of court then until fall, and in the meantime what is known as the lawyers' vacation period comes. It is probable that some definite conclusion regarding the opening and closing hours will be reached at a meeting of the bar association.

There are 3907 electors eligible to vote in the second ward, according to the return of registrars to the county commissioners office. Curiously enough, the women outnumber the men, there being 1961 women and 1946 men. The close division of the sexes in this ward is remarkable. The figures for the different precincts are as follows:

First precinct—130 men, 113 women, total 243.

Second precinct—163 men, 140 women, total 303.

Third precinct—181 men, 206 women, total 387.

Fourth precinct—186 men, 251 women, total 437.

Fifth precinct—221 men, 250 women, total 471.

Sixth precinct—205 men, 203 women, total 408.

Seventh precinct—271 men, 247 women, total 518.

Eighth precinct—191 men, 185 women, total 376.

Ninth precinct—228 men, 207 women, total 435.

Tenth precinct—169 men, 159 women, total 328.

Petition of Mrs. Margaret Pearl McCurdy, widow of the late John McCurdy, to sell a small section of land from the McCurdy farm of 162 acres in Slippery Rock township was presented to court yesterday. Program Is Presented At Arthur McGill School By Pupils

Music, properly taught, is the greatest cultural force in the daily life of every individual, home or school.

That this fact is being recognized in the New Castle public schools and is being taught as a fundamental subject by competent instructors was clearly demonstrated Friday evening at Arthur McGill school when a demonstration of the gradual development of music from the First Grade through high school was put on under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Association of the McGill school.

A large and appreciative audience, for an hour and a half, listened attentively to a program under the able direction of Miss Margaret Preston, music teacher at McGill, through whose untiring efforts the evening's enjoyment was made possible.

Preceding the first number, Principal R. C. Leslie gave a resume of the methods used under the present system of teaching music compared to the method used years ago bringing out the fact that children are now being taught to sing a very, instead of straining their delicate voices, yet they sense the correct tones.

The string quartet from Senior high opened the program, those taking part including Anthony Casber, Harold Matthews, Marjorie Young, and Donna Van Horn. This was followed by a trio consisting of Misses Ruth Wilkison, Mary Virginia Roberts and Cecelia Hasulak, representing Senior high who gave a pleasing group of two songs without piano accompaniment one number being especially noteworthy in that it was a composition of Gladys Rich, former supervisor of music in New Castle.

A clarinet solo, was given by Arthur Aronson of Washington Junior high. Miss Edna M. Sheaffer provided a beautiful accompanist for Mr. Aronson.

Number IV on the program consisted of elementary choral groups from Grade One through Grade Six, McGill school who sang surprisingly well with Miss Preston accompanist and director.

Master Jo Vogan young son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Vogan, rendered a Tschakowsky selection, and this was followed by a chorus composed of fourth, fifth and sixth grades of McGill who sang a group of three numbers, Miss Shaffer accompanying.

The highlight of the program was the piano number by Miss Dorothy Fisher, who won the statewide contest at Johnstown last week, which is, perhaps, the greatest recognition of this young artist's splendid work.

In conclusion, the vested choir from Ben Franklin Junior high consisting of thirty eight voices, rendered two compositions by Gluck and Willis in which was displayed excellent training under the guidance of Miss Esther Gibbons. Miss Carrie Gibbons played the piano accompaniment and Verne Dufford a violin obligato.

At the business session presided over earlier in the evening by the president of the McGill P. T. A. Mrs. J. L. Vogan, there was an installation of officers these including: Mrs. Herman Gibson, president; Mrs. Russell Melvin, vice president; Mrs. Paul Rowland, secretary and Mrs. Lucille McConnell, treasurer.

Mrs. L. B. Calvin served as installing officer.

Extend Jameson Hospital Aide Campaign Week

Membership Campaign Is Progressing Nicely Leaders Report

Announcement was made today that the membership drive of the Jameson Memorial Hospital Aide Society would be extended one week in order that all of the women's organizations would have an opportunity to participate. The drive will have ended on Tuesday, but will carry on an additional week.

There has been a little confusion as to the contributions to the aide society. This is not a direct contribution to the hospital itself, but the benefit of the contribution finds its way into the rooms. The women of the aide society provide linens and in any hospital this is a tremendous expense. Every dollar of membership money taken in goes for that purpose.

Women in the outlying districts are urged to be part of this membership drive and to have a share in the work of providing linens and other important accessories to the Jameson hospital. The dues are from a dollar up, depending upon what the member desires to give.

It wouldn't do to enforce all laws. Somebody must stay out of jail to pay taxes.

Each Fined $50.00 And Ordered From City By Mayor

Daniel Desmond, George Matulas, Gus Comanos and Frank Cochino, between the ages of 18 and 20, New York City, were fined $50 each in police court today by Mayor Charles B. Mayne. They also were ordered out of town.

They had been taken into custody yesterday on a charge of suspicion after it had been alleged they had attempted to entice young girls into an automobile in which they were riding.

Cochino told the mayor he had come here to spend a vacation with relatives and had been accompanied by the other young men.

Four young girls testified against the quartet, and the mayor imposed a fine of $50 each, which was paid.

BIG CROWD ATTENDS COURT

Sixteen Persons Stand Before City Bar Of Justice

Standing space was at a premium in the city police court today when Mayor Charles B. Mayne conducted police court. The class consisted of 16 persons, 10 being charged with drunkenness, five with suspicion and one with drunkenness and suspicion.

Due to the arrival of a circus in town, the thoroughfares were crowded, and pending the parade a crowd of men and boys attended police court.

One man was given a 30-days jail sentence as the result of domestic trouble, and two other prisoners received castor oil sentences.

One man who complained against a neighbor found himself in the plight of the slaughter house lamb which led the rest of the lambs into trouble. When the police investigated the complaint they found two bottles of moonshine in the complainant's home and he paid $10.

Four young men who had attempted to entice young girls ranging in age as low as 12 years into an automobile were each fined $50 and ordered from the city, and other defendants who were charged with intoxication, it not being their second offense, were discharged.

Extend Jameson Hospital Aide Campaign Week

Membership Campaign Is Progressing Nicely Leaders Report

Announcement was made today that the membership drive of the Jameson Memorial Hospital Aide Society would be extended one week in order that all of the women's organizations would have an opportunity to participate. The drive will have ended on Tuesday, but will carry on an additional week.

There has been a little confusion as to the contributions to the aide society. This is not a direct contribution to the hospital itself, but the benefit of the contribution finds its way into the rooms. The women of the aide society provide linens and in any hospital this is a tremendous expense. Every dollar of membership money taken in goes for that purpose.

Women in the outlying districts are urged to be part of this membership drive and to have a share in the work of providing linens and other important accessories to the Jameson hospital. The dues are from

W. R. Hearst On Equality.
Good Name For A Plane.
Such A Mare's Nest.
Both Were Cannibals.
Vacation For Pope Pius.
By ARTHUR BRISBANE

BIRTHDAYS MAKE you thoughtful. W. R. Hearst, who has just celebrated his birthday, with many friends in his own house, and millions that have never seen him, in other houses, to wish him happy returns, sends a thoughtful telegram in reply to the question: "What do you think about conditions now?" Other old-fashioned Americans will be interested in the telegram:

"San Simeon, Cal., May 2.
"Arthur Brisbane, New York:
"Equality before the law is the primary protection of the little man.

"It is the fundamental guaranty of his rights and liberties. As soon as discrimination is introduced, it leads eventually and inevitably to discrimination in favor of the big fellow and against the little fellow.

"It may not start this way, but it ends this way, and the only safeguard against discrimination against the little fellow is freedom from discrimination. This is what our fathers realized when they established this republic.

"They established it to obtain freedom from the discrimination under which they had been suffering.

"They established it to abolish caste and class and special privilege.

"They established it to create liberty and equality—equality of rights, equality of privileges, equality of opportunities, equality of obligations.

"You cannot have the benefits of equality unless you have equality.

"You cannot discriminate in favor of one class or against one class and have equality.

"You cannot have unequal privileges and maintain a government based on equal rights.

"If we want to surrender the ideals of our fathers and go back to the unequal systems which they founded this republic to do so, but we should realize that we are doing.

"We must realize that we are attributing failure to what is universally recognized as the greatest success politically and economically in the world.

"We must realize that we are not going forward, but backward. We are not adopting new systems, but returning to old, discredited and discarded systems.

"Both Communism and Fascism are government by caste and class.

"Both Communism and Fascism mean the abolition of liberty . . . political and individual, and the substitution of despotism.

"They mean the end of freedom . . . freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of thought, freedom of action. "When the torch of liberty is extinguished, our era of enlightenment is ended, and we return to the dark ages of force and fear.

"All the progress our fathers dreamed of, and all that we have achieved, are based on the democratic principle of equality. "That is the keystone of the arch; and if we remove it, the whole structure of our democracy crumbles to the ground. "William Randolph Hearst."

CESARE SABELLI and Captain George Pond were ready yesterday to hop the ocean from New York to Rome. This opening of the trans-Atlantic flying season is to be followed by seven or eight other attempts.

The monoplane chosen for the New York-to-Rome flight is well named, "Leonardo Da Vinci." Leonardo, more than four hundred years ago, designed an airplane that would have flown if he had had a light gas engine to put in it.

His drawings, still preserved, are admirable. He is the original flying machine inventor. Previous flying plans, like the one that Vergil imagined for Daedalus, were mere dreams.

Flying is made possible by an engine that develops the power of one hundred horses, and weighs less than half as much as one horse.

HITLER'S FOLLOWERS discover a mare's nest of unusual size: "World Jewry is planning the biggest, most gruesome ritual murder against Hitler and his followers ever witnessed by the world."

If you don't believe it, Hitler's agents can show you a 1933 Jewish new year post card, which shows a "sacred rooster" marked with a swastika, with Hitler's head at the end of the rooster's neck. What more "proof" could you ask?

FURTHERMORE, by Jewish resolution, "the Aryans of the world, the pick of humanity, are to be annihilated." They must be a rather feeble "pick of humanity," since they outnumber more than twenty to one the Jews that are going to annihilate them. These Hitler visions recall a remark made by Meyer Hecht's venerable father: Mein sohn, wann mann meshuggah wird, faengst's im Kopf an."

"My son, when a man goes crazy, it starts in the head."

THE SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION informs you that Hiawatha, of the poem, was a real person, and a cannibal, until superstitious fears made him give up cannibalism. The cannibal part need not horrify you. All the stronger races, including your own, whatever it may be, were cannibals in the beginning. Those that were not cannibals died out, because they had no meat to give their children in time of famine. Minnehaha was doubtless a cannibal also, and did the cooking for Hiawatha.

Such is romance, sifted down. MILLIONS WILL be glad to hear that Pope Pius, now seventy-seven years old, will move from the hot gardens of the Vatican to spend the summer at his villa on the hills, Castel Gandolfo. Recognition of the Pope's temporal power by Italy makes the move possible after sixty-four continuous years of papal residence within the Vatican walls.

The Pope will take with him only a few high church dignitaries, and a detachment of the faithful Swiss Guards and papal gendarmes. Audiences will be granted at Castel Gandolfo.

The fact that the Pope has been able, in spite of his age, to endure the oppressive heat of the Vatican for so many summers is due to his absolutely temperate life and many years of mountain climbing vacations in high Alps before he was elevated to the papacy.

THE DEPARTMENT of Justice needs two million dollars for more men to hunt Dillinger, and to buy guns for the hunting. Some agents of the department have been armed with machine guns taken from captured gangsters, a sort of "hoist with his own petard" idea, fortunately the United States seems to have plenty of money, to hunt Dillinger or anything else.

In the last ten months, Uncle Sam has spent fourteen thousand dollars every minute, something more than nineteen million dollars a day. While spending nineteen million, he has taken in only eight million dollars a day, which means that he has borrowed ten million dollars every day to do business on. That can't last forever, without inflation, and not even with inflation.

THE FRENCH are feverishly hunting for spies, particularly in and around the German frontier. We are free from spy worry here, for there is nothing for a spy to report except that we keep comic opera "coast defense pop-guns" to shoot at ships that will never come, leave vital spots like the Panama Canal wide open to attack, for lack of adequate air defense, and leave our richest cities open to bombardment and destruction at any time.

SOMEBODY IN this country should remember the warning that Solon gave Croesus, displaying his piles of gold:

"If anyone comes having better iron than thee, he will be master of all this gold."

If anyone should come having better and more airplanes and submarines than we, he could cart away that large rabbit's foot seven billion dollar jump of gold in Washington, without serious interference. We should be compelled to say:

"Yes, certainly, take it, but please don't poison gas us any more."

Erie Academy Defeats New Castle 13-0

Visitors Score Two Touchdowns In Spring Battle

Thurbon and Grygier Crash Over For Touchdowns That Upset New Castle

Game Marked By Considerable Fumbling On Part Of Both Teams

Erie Academy High School football team with a well balanced machine came to New Castle's beautiful Taggart Field last night for a spring game and upset the "dope bucket" in other words Erie proved too strong for the "Red Hurricane" walking off with a 13 to 0 victory. The game was replete with fumbling on the part of both teams. Erie's two touchdowns were made by Grygier and Thurbon. It was the first defeat for a New Castle High football team in 26 straight encounters. A crowd estimated at close to 3,000 witnessed the game which was played in conjunction with a gigantic sports festival.

New Backfield
New Castle High presented an entirely new set of backfield men last night with Copley, Fleming, Mumford and Raskowski elected to carry on where Kohnic, Nickum, Lane and Ridley left off, and while their work was good, there is room for improvement. With more experience this set of ball carriers will be hard to stop. Fleming was perhaps the most outstanding of the backs making nice gains. Mumford performed brilliantly in the kicking and passing department. The New Castle line flanked by the Shellogg brothers Fred and Alec was strong as usual, and even more so when Coach Eridenbaugh shifted his lineup and sent Raskowski back to his old position at guard.

The Erie Academy High team deserved the victory, there is no getting around that fact. The Coach Drake machine worked with smoothness and precision that left little to be desired. Grygier, Thurbon, R. Wolfe and Wiley were the outstanding backfield men for Lake Erie.

The first period was rather a punting duel with Mumford and Wiley about on a par when it came to kicking. The first quarter found both teams highly nervous and many fumbles occurred. There were no dangerous threats on the goal line by either side in the first period.

At the end of the first quarter Coach Eridenbaugh replaced Raskowski with Stanley Kohnic and Raskowski went to guard in place of Cardella.

One of the outstanding plays of the New Castle team in the second period was the rifle pass that Mumford shot to Fleming for a gain of 13 yards.

Grygier Scores
Erie scored their first touchdown due to an exchange of punts which left New Castle back on their own 17-yard line. A 15-yard penalty hurt the New Castle team at this period, putting them back on the 2-yard line. Mumford was hurried in his kick from behind the goal line and the Erie team got the ball on the New Castle 22-yard line. Thurbon on the first play went to the 11-yard line, and then carried it again to the 4 yard line. Grygier carried the ball over on the next play through the center of the line. Wiley attempted a placement kick, but the ball hit the cross bar of the goal posts and bounced back onto the playing field. Erie 6, New Castle 0.

New Castle Threatens
At the start of the third period or second half Coach Drake of the Erie team sent his starting varsity team back to the field. When the first half ended Erie had a great many subs on the field.

Erie kicked off to New Castle at the start of the third period, but New Castle never got any closer than the Erie 37-yard line. Fleming punted and gave Erie the ball on their own 9-yard line.

New Castle received the ball on a punt by Wiley and marched to the Erie 19-yard line with Fleming ripping off several nice gains, but lost the ball on downs. Ostrosky replaced Mumford for New Castle and took Wiley's kick on the 40-yard line as the third period ended. Erie 6, New Castle 0.

Fumbles Costly
The fourth period got under way with New Castle having the ball in their possession on the Erie 40-yard line. Fleming ran the ball once and made two yards and then kicked to Erie over the goal line. It was Erie's ball on the 20-yard line.

Grygier kicked for Erie and Ostrosky took the ball in midfield and returned it 15 yards. S. Kohnic fumbled the ball on the next play and Erie recovered on the Erie 40-yard line. Eridenbaugh sent Cardella back into the game and he took the guard job shifting Raskowski back to fullback. S. Kohnic was limping when he came off the field with a badly bruised leg and a bruised nose.

Thurbon Goes Through
On two plays Wiley and Thurbon ran the ball to the New Castle 34-yard line. Thurbon shot a pass to Wiley for a first down on the New Castle 20-yard line. It was a fine pass. R. Wolfe and Wiley carried the ball on two plays for a first down on the New Castle 10-yard line. On the next play Thurbon took the ball and zigzagged his way over the goal line through the New Castle team for the second Erie touchdown. M. Anderson kicked the extra-point on a placement. Erie 13, New Castle 0.

There was not much time left and the teams battled back and forth in the middle of the field for the next few plays after the kickoff.

Three New Castle men Copley, S.

Kominic and Tuscano were badly used in the battle and had to leave the game. Copley got a badly sprained leg and Tuscano was kicked in the ribs.

Churchill Downs Is Thronged For Derby Race Today

Louisville Excited As Hour Draws Near For Running Of Annual Classic

CAVALCADE STILL RANKS FAVORITE

By DAVIS P. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—Sixty thousand people milled and fought and elbowed their way about in a sort of amiable violence today as downtown Louisville took on the aspect of an organized brawl and the spirit of carnival had its fling.

Trolley cars lay to the gunwales spilling down the street with strident clangor, the parking privilege ran itself into an overnight fortune; the police blew whistles; the hotels literally threw up their hands to high heaven with the prayer that people would take their feet out of the lobby and go off somewhere in the public park where organized idling is an art.

Cavalcade Time Clock
Nobody apparently knew anybody—and yet all were strangely kind.

Time Clock and Cavalcade, the Brownie movie entry are the favorites. That's Louisville the morning of the Kentucky Derby.

Louisville the night before was even wilder. The evening was barely under way when the town rocked and reeled under the impact of the story that Churchill Downs was afire.

Later when all horses were saved and the only damage was the loss of two barns, they tried to deprecate the importance of this development. But they didn't feel that way about it when smoke filled the Bradley barn and Col. E. R. Bradley helped to lead his bear and blue again to safety nor was anybody particularly reassured when Cavalcade, favorite for the race, seemed unusually distressed by the nearby flames.

Two Parns Burn
Altogether, it wasn't just the restful sort of evening that trainers plan for horses on the eve of the derby but after all, the damage was slight and in time, tranquility again reigned. But not downtown. This was the first repeat derby and scenes of the wildest wassail went forward far into the night, with more than a suggestion of m-m-c-tum still lingering when the new day broke and the hotel district resumed its customary animation. A few hours later, it wasn't animation.

Showers Occur At Louisville Today

(International News Service)
LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5.—Light showers fell as derby day dawned today.

They bode ill for the fiery of the feminine fans but turf authorities said they would not greatly affect the condition of the Churchill Downs track, which is lightning fast.

Occasional local showers throughout today, was the weather bureau's forecast.

Pirates Defeat Giants, 4 To 3

Carl Hubbell Takes First Defeat Of Season At Hands Of Slugging Pirates

INDIANS DEFEAT SENATORS, 5 TO 3

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK May 5.—The ushers and peanut vendors in the Cincinnati ball park are going to be awful lonesome this summer unless Papa Croley takes the band off his radio bankroll and induces somebody to part with a few ball players.

The good burghers out there are already giving the Reds the absent treatment and when those burgers stay away they stay away in thousands and they don't return unless they are shown something. To date about all they've seen is the backs of their outfielders heading for the fences.

More than 15,000 turned out in Boston yesterday to see the Sox trim the Browns, 4 to 1, in a well-pitched game. The Sox bunched nine hits off Buck Newsum and Coffman while Lefty Weiland was holding the Hornsby hopefuls to six.

Gomez In Shape
Another Lefty, Gomez the goofy of the Yanks, had a three hit shut out up his sleeve for the discomfiture of the Tigers and won 3 to 0. The Yanks made but five off Tom Bridges and Babe Ruth parked his fourth homer deep in the bleachers.

The Indians were convincing as they trimmed the faltering Senators, 5 to 3, with Lloyd Brown outpitching Earl Whitehill.

Pirates Beat Hubbell
Red Lucas, the reformed Red, had an answer for those who said he wouldn't win for the Pirates. Red was touched up for 11 hits by the Giants but he was the top man in the clutches and came through, 4 to 3. Carl Hubbell went down to defeat under a barrage of 12 Pirate hits.

The Cubs turned on Tom Zachary and beat the Braves 8 to 1.

Bill Walker of the Cards also lost a homer when Don Hurst of the Phillies hit over the garden wall but he had enough to beat Curt Davis and came through handsomely, 3 to 1.

The Dodgers took another from the Reds, 6 to 3, Mungo outpitching Derringer, Vance and Shaute.

Imagine Washing Of 65,000 Pieces

Just 65,000 pieces of washing per month! That is the current production rate in the Jameson Memorial laundry—three quarters of a million pieces per year.

In our homes if the total linen supply gets through the washing once a month it is because the supply is pretty short. On this basis one might contemplate the hospital linen supply as pretty short if it totaled only 65,000 pieces. That is the difference between the hospital washing and home laundry. The hospital can get along well with a much shorter linen supply than the home because it washes six times a week instead of once a week—and wears its linens out six times as fast as the home.

But however you care to look at it 65,000 pieces of washing per month is 65,000 pieces of washing per month and it compares with 35,000 to 45,000 pieces per month during the darkest hours of our late but not forgotten depression.

To some of us, increased laundry work means more patients in the hospital; to others it means increased cleanliness. To us—right now—it means that the supply is being used more and washed and worn out faster and that we must not only replenish reserve stocks but increase the supply in active use. It means we must have more money to purchase supplies and materials in greater amount and at increased prices. Our job this year is bigger but more of us are able to help and many of us are able to increase our support. Solicitation comes just once a year. It is on now.

Many seventh ward residents find that the severe winter has killed their privet hedges and rose bushes. They will have to be trimmed down to their roots and will probably come along alright for the most part.

The barberry bushes didn't seem to take the winter as hard as some others. The spirea also didn't seem to be harmed.

Farmers report that the peach trees in Lawrence county will probably yield very little fruit because of the extraordinarily cold weather but that the other fruit trees were apparently not harmed to any great extent.

Could They Live On In Their Home?

A mother's loving care is the rightful heritage of every child. That care need not be lost to a family suddenly deprived of its breadwinner. The Equitable's Family Income Policy will provide a liberal income until the children are grown, permitting the mother to devote her time to the children and the home. After they become self supporting the full face amount of the policy is then paid to the mother in cash.
